Oahu

Pacific Royale

Anyone lucky enough to be going to Honolulu doesn't have to give a reason for going. They can just say, "We're going to Honolulu," and imagination will take care of the rest. Moreover, Honolulu can probably live up to and even surpass whatever we imagine. World-famous beaches and tropical weather set the scene for an amazing mix of Pacific cultures in this Hawaiian capital. There is a reason why Hawaii is consistently rated as one of the nation's top travel destinations; in fact, there are several of them.

Maui

Resort Condos

Maui is a golfer's dream, with some of the most challenging courses anywhere, and designed by the most well-known names in the sport. Chosen by the readers of Condé Nast Traveler magazine as "the best island in the world."

It's early evening. Time to relax, sip a cool tropical concoction and enjoy another spectacular sunset over the distant islands. This time is yours, so why not go for a sail or take a short trip to the tiny island of Molokini, which lies just off the southern coast of Maui. This wildlife preserve is the single most popular spot for scuba diving and snorkeling. The inner crater is an anchorage for the dive boats, and the infamous "back wall" has some of the most spectacular underwater vistas in the world.

Freeport, Bahamas

Grand Cayman

Dominican Republic

St. Thomas

St. Maarten

Aquamarine waters, white sand beaches, and brilliant coral reefs await you. Fishing, sailing, snorkeling and scuba diving are just a few of the water sport diversions. These wonderful islands are a dream come true for souvenir hunters and duty free shoppers.

In the evening there are clubs, discos, and restaurants offering traditional island delicacies and cuisines from around the world, plus a welcome retreat from the day's sun. Experience the rich heritage of culture from many nations that have left their mark on these islands.

The Bahamas offer everything you could ever need for a perfect vacation, including PGA championship golf and great nightlife, plus fabulous duty-free shopping.

St. Thomas offers the natural beauty of the islands with a sophisticated and cosmopolitan atmosphere. Charlotte Amalie, the capital of the U.S. Virgins, is one of the most breathtaking harbors in the world and the most visited port in the Caribbean. A mountainous island with shimmering bays, powdery white beaches, flowing green hills, and a near perfect climate year round make this destination one of the most desirable in the world.

St. Maarten·St. Martin is home to two cultures — St. Maarten is Dutch and St. Martin is French — allowing you to experience both for the price of one. Whatever can be done in or on the water — snorkeling, windsurfing, waterskiing — is available here; golf and tennis are also options. Serious diners will be able to try a different top-class restaurant each night. There's an active nightlife, with discos and casinos.

Grand Cayman is the world capital of scuba diving, home to spectacular beaches, dramatic landscapes and hundreds of species of birds. Scuba and snorkel aficionados will delight in Sting Ray City, where you actually swim with these magnificent creatures.

Dominican Republic offers breathtaking beaches, lush green mountains and some of the oldest and most beautiful examples of colonial architecture in the western world. Beach lovers come for the endless stretches of pure white beaches, and history and culture buffs find unending pleasure in Santo Domingo's 16th-Century Colonial Zone.

Orlando

Embassy Grand Beach

Grand Beach puts you in the heart of the premier vacation playground of the world. Not only are you and your family just minutes from Walt Disney World Resort, Universal Studios Escape, Sea World and Orlando's other exciting attractions, you can also experience the fun and relaxation of lakefront vacationing. Secluded in 18 wooded acres, this elegant resort overlooks picture-perfect Lake Bryan, a natural 450-acre lake.

When you're not busy water-skiing, sailing, boating, wind-surfing, fishing, canoeing or parasailing, take a dip in the outdoor pool, wind down in your own private Jacuzzi or picnic with your family lakeside. And there's plenty of room for the whole family to spread out in your luxurious condominium.

Fort Lauderdale

Resort Condos

Fort Lauderdale is really far more than a pretty beach. Your trip to Fort Lauderdale may include plenty of relaxing moments by the gentle ocean surf. However, if you are feeling the itch to see and do more, a wealth of sightseeing opportunities await you. Butterfly World is a special attraction featuring thousands of vibrant “flying flowers” fluttering in their natural habitat. Marvel at these tiny living natural works of art as you stroll through acres of gardens and an indoor rainforest complete with waterfalls and an enormous aviary full of tropical birds! Then dash off to discover more hidden secrets of nature and stir your curiosity as you explore a forest of unspoiled wonders at world-famous Everglades Holiday Park. Glide over a sea of grass in an airboat, meet the alligators, watch the beautiful egrets and other birds, and go fishing as well! This attraction is totally unique and truly a “must” when visiting the area. There are boat rentals and a campground, too, for the ultimate outdoor experience!

Miami

Resort Condos

Picture yourself speeding over the tropical Everglades’ River of Grass aboard a thundering airboat. Watch the world’s most exotic and beautiful trained birds perform and pose. Explore an 11th-century monastery, the oldest building in the Western Hemisphere. Ride through wilderness mangrove creeks and islands on a glass bottom boat. Find yourself caged in and observing the antics of free-roaming monkeys, gorillas and orangutans. Bask in the pastel splendor of the historic Art Deco District. Gasp as a Native Miccosukee Indian goes one-on-one with a 12-foot alligator. Thrill to performances by dolphins, sea lions and a killer whale. Explore an Italian Renaissance-style villa with more than 10 acres of formal gardens and fountains.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND TERMS & CONDITIONS

Please read the following General Information and Terms & Conditions carefully.

This program entitles you and a companion to receive two complimentary round-trip airline tickets per Airline Ticket Voucher to the destination of your choice for a minimum number of nights' stay at any of the participating hotels or resort condominiums shown in this brochure. The airline tickets issued are:

- for special fare coach class seating on the plane •
 - valid only when used in conjunction with the accommodations supplied by our program •

LENGTH OF STAY: See the Pricing Guide for the required minimum number of nights' stay for each hotel or resort condominium from the departure city. You may choose to stay less than the minimum number of nights for a surcharge of 75% of the unused nights. Discounts are available for longer stays. Ask the travel consultant for details.

AIRLINE TICKET VOUCHER: Each is valid for two airline tickets for one trip, which must be booked by the expiration date, and travel within 1 year of the booking. You may call the travel consultant for an extended expiration date, which will be granted on a case by case basis. The expiration date is located on the Airline Ticket Voucher. The Airline Ticket Voucher becomes invalid after the expiration date or if your credit card company (or bank) does not honor the charge (or check) used to make your final payment.

RESERVATIONS and ACCOMMODATIONS: You must book your trip at least 45 days in advance of the intended departure date. All accommodation rates are those regular rates published by the hotel or resort condominium and applicable at the time of booking. The hotel or resort condominium you choose, the travel dates and the city from which you depart will determine your required minimum number of nights' stay. Each additional room booked entitles you to receive two additional complimentary round-trip airline tickets for a minimum number of nights' stay at the regular published rates. An adult over the age of 21 must occupy each additional room. Some blackout dates fall during major holiday weeks like Christmas, New Year's, Presidents' week, etc.

RESORT CONDOMINIUMS: Some resort condominium associations have imposed an arrival date restriction to Friday, Saturday or Sunday. Stays of seven days or less must fall within the condominium associations definition of a week. A five-day stay at a Saturday to Saturday condominium may run from Saturday to Thursday or Monday to Saturday, etc. Keep in mind that some airlines require a Saturday night stay. Stays of more than seven nights may include one or more nights in each of the two defined weeks. Resort condominium facilities vary by destination; some may be high-rise, low-rise, or town homes, etc. Your travel consultant will provide you with details about the property and facilities you have selected.

Your travel consultant will inform you of the charges and conditions associated with additional occupancy including children. Most resort condominiums allow children to share a room with an adult at no extra charge if the existing bedding is used.

SPECIAL TRAVEL REQUIREMENTS: At the time of booking, inform your travel consultant of any special travel requirements such as handicap access, special meal requirements, etc.

OTHER DEPARTURE CITIES: Canadian departure cities may incur a surcharge. Departures from cities other than those listed in this brochure may be available for an additional charge.

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS: Travel documents including airline tickets, room and service vouchers, will be sent to you three weeks before departure except for late bookings which will be sent via express mail carrier. Documents are issued when full payment is received. You are responsible for these valuable documents once you receive them. Lost or stolen room vouchers are replaceable for a $50 fee. Lost or stolen airline tickets are replaceable for a non-refundable charge of $75 per ticket, plus the actual ticket cost. If you find and return the unused replacement tickets, then you will receive a refund.

DEPOSIT & PAYMENT: All travel arrangements require payment in full at the time of booking. Rates are subject to change between the time you make the reservations and when you actually book the trip. All quotes presented and payments due are in U.S. dollars. Any additional taxes are due at the time of booking. The program pays for the United States government tax on the complimentary tickets. You are responsible for:

- all other taxes and fees, such as airport departure and landing fee taxes, custom duties, taxes and fees levied by foreign governments, etc.
- surcharges, gratuities, occupancy and sales taxes and other customary charges, which are based on room occupancy. In some cases, these taxes and/or charges may have to be paid by you directly to the resort upon check in.

OTHER SERVICES: Your travel consultant may arrange for sightseeing tours, car rentals or transportation to and from your hotel or resort condominium. The room charge does not generally include transportation between the destination airport and hotel or resort condominium; service charges associated with additional room occupancy; tips to local representatives, sightseeing guides, restaurant staff, hotel staff; meals, wines, liquors or other items of personal nature. An “All-Inclusive” resort room charge generally includes meals, tips, taxes or airport transfers. If the resort does assess a service charge, this is typically due at the time the room is paid. This service charge will be on your confirmation invoice. Other resorts may require payment of these charges by you at the time of your stay. Your travel consultant will inform you of these details in advance.

CHANGES AND REVISIONS: All changes to confirmed reservations are subject to availability. In addition to any change charges the hotel or resort condominium may levy, the airline requires a $100 fee, plus any difference in fare from original issuing date of ticket.

CANCELLATIONS, REFUNDS AND PENALTIES: Refunds on confirmed travel arrangements will be equal to the amount provided by the hotel or resort condominium in accordance with their cancellation policy. Airline tickets for confirmed reservations are non-refundable and penalties apply to cancellations. Refunds process upon the receipt of all pre-paid travel documents. NOTE: many resort condominiums require full payment in advance and will not provide a refund once payment is made. Please see ‘Trip Cancellation Insurance’ below. There will be no refunds made by the hotel or resort condominium for unused nights if the trip is suddenly cut short. If you have trip cancellation insurance, the insurance may reimburse you for these unused nights as well as any charges for any options that may be purchased in conjunction with your vacation, which are not refundable.

TRIP CANCELLATION INSURANCE: All travelers are encouraged to purchase trip cancellation insurance. There are many types of trip cancellation policies available. For example, coverage for travel delays ($500), baggage and travel documents loss ($500), baggage delay ($100), medical assistance ($10,000), emergency assistance ($20,000), and accidental death and dismemberment ($25,000). Some states require the offering of trip insurance. Trip cancellation insurance is available to you for each trip. You are not required to accept this insurance, and may purchase insurance from another source. Policy details of the available coverage are included with your travel confirmation documents.

RESPONSIBILITY: This program, its agents, representatives, officials and suppliers of services pursuant to, or in connection with this travel program, are acting only as a representative for the vacationer in making arrangements for land accommodations, all transportation, and related services, and do not assume any liability whatsoever for any injury, damage, death, loss, accident, additional expense, omissions, or delay due to act of negligence of or default by any hotel or resort, air or ground carrier, restaurant, company, or person rendering any of the services included in the travel, an act of God, rerouting or acts on any government authority, sickness, pilferage, labor disputes, machinery breakdown, quarantine, government restraints, weather or other cause beyond their reasonable and personal control. Fly Free America reserves the right to add or delete any hotel or condominium without prior notice. Fly Free America is not responsible for errors or omissions that may occur in the brochure.

PARTICIPATING CARRIERS: The airlines used in the program are scheduled airlines and selected solely by representatives. This program is in conjunction with the services of approved Airlines Reporting Corporation (ARC) and International Air Transport Association (IATA) member carriers. The airline tickets issued by the program are special fare class tickets, coach seating, and non-refundable, which are limited in number for each flight. You will receive frequent flyer mileage for most flights provided if enrolled in the appropriate airline program. Your travel consultant may enroll you in a frequent flyer program if you are not a current member.

All airline tickets and hotel or resort condominium reservations are subject to availability at the time of the request. To help you get the dates and places you desire, it is recommended that you book your trip as far in advance as possible. Complimentary tickets to Hawaii are to Honolulu. If you go to another island, you are responsible for the cost of the inter-island air.

PROOF OF CITIZENSHIP: Passport, voter registration card, birth certificate with raised seal, or certificate of naturalization are the acceptable documents for U.S. citizens when presented with a photo ID on most Caribbean Islands, and in Mexico. Children traveling with a single parent to and from Mexico require letter of permission from the other parent. When such letter is not available, a notarized letter stating why it is not available is required. Some foreign destinations may require a passport and/or visa. Your travel consultant will provide these details when you plan your vacation.
